Workshop Social Network Analysis in Historical Research

Conducted by Dr. Yanne Broux (Katholieke Universiteit Leuven)
Presentations:
Jana Pacyna (Heidelberger Akademie der Wissenschaften)
Christian Neumann (ZEGK, Historisches Seminar)

Tue-Thu, 9-11. Mai 2017
at 9:00 a.m.
SFB 933, Marstallstr. 6
Projektraum

The informal workshop offers a hands-on introduction to the techniques of Social Network Analysis (SNA) with emphasis on its use in historical research. It will survey the application of SNA to various datasets drawn mostly from ancient and medieval documents and will take participants through the steps of performing SNA, from structuring a database to visualization of the data to analysis and interpretation of the historical evidence.

The mornings (9:00-10:30) will be devoted to more formal presentations, which will be followed by hands-on practical sessions. Please feel free to join at any time, but we appreciate if you state your interest by registering. To do so please contact Dr. Julia Lougovaya at lougovaya@uni-heidelberg.de.
